

The Franciscan Fathers, who conduct the Mary Anderson Monastery in Floyd Knobs, northwest of New Albany, will open their new building, just erected, on Sunday, September 26, and a general reception will be given their friends in the three Falls Cities on that day. The new addition to the monastery is forty-two by forty-eight feet, and has been in course of construction during the past two months.

ARCHBISHOP TO HIBERNIANS.

At the Massachusetts State convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, recently held in Lowell, Archbishop O'Connell delivered a most notable address. It was terse and timely and no doubt can be entertained of its good effect. The eloquent prelate most truthfully said:

"Unfortunately the great glory of the race is not appreciated enough by the younger men. I refer to the Irish-American element of the race born in this country. They are inclined to minimize what they hear of Ireland's history and what she has done for civilization and learning in the past centuries. No one yet, living or dead, has done real justice to Irish history. The great and true lover of Ireland has yet to write the story of Erin. The Irish race has a primacy among the races, no matter what its material, financial or government conditions may be.

"The history of Ireland as written is a conspiracy against the truth. There is so much purposeful misrepresentation, and I say it regretfully, of Irish history, that the student, the seeker after the truth, must wade through dense volumes to get at the kernels of Erin's history, to gather here and there the real sentiments and spirit that animate the Irish race. It is not necessary to go into details to prove this statement. I make it with the hope that it may echo through every Irish heart listening to my words. The Irish race has been patient for three centuries. It is time to open the eyes of the world's historians on the jeweled pages of Irish history. These are my solid convictions as an Irishman and as a deep student of history. Thank God! I am Irish by blood, by sympathy and, one might say, by desire. Speaking as a student, it seems to me that thus far there is lacking a true understanding of the spirit of self-sacrifice that the children of Ireland have made for the faith of Jesus Christ, and to keep the spirit of Irish nationality."

His Grace is a native of Lowell, the son of Irish parents, and of a stock eminent in Irish history.

AID THE OLD.

Truly it is said that nothing is more beautiful or Christ-like in the character of the young than a kind and gentle regard for the old. They whose falling steps are slowly descending the sunless slope of age have but one consolation as the years speed by them, and that is the tenderness and consideration of those whose lives the beauties of the morning are breaking.

Age is a season of physical infirmity, of mental retrospection, of shattered dreams and earthly disappointments. No more for the old is there a glamor in the rolling stars, no more a freshness in the spring, no more a triumph in the years. The thousand melodies of the present sound far off to their aged ears and its charms are hushed in the dimmed eyes whose tears fall on the graves of old affections.

Treat them gently, youth and maiden, for by their travail and their sacrifice are you the possessors not only of existence in the world in whose splendors you exult, but also for the prosperity and happiness you thoughtlessly enjoy. Never mind if she or he be old and feeble and of humble garb—they look to you in their helpless years, to aid with gentle courtesy—their tottering steps. God's blessing will reward you if you do.

WHAT WINS.

There are none who will not agree with the Rochester Catholic Citizen in its declaration that every youth beginning his life in the world of affairs should know that pleasant address, respectful attention to every one, rich or poor, high or low, is what wins. A sour, gruff, surly answer to questions asked, never pays and never will. A pleasant "yes, sir," or "no, sir," goes farther than most young men or young women realize. Acting out the boor may be a natural trait of character, but it does not win. At the old Lindell House in St. Louis a gentleman out of health stopped a few weeks. The table girl who waited on him took special pains to get what would be relished best by the sick man. Most waiters avoid invalids and do not care to wait on them. She had a sympathetic nature, and it showed itself whenever there was an opportunity. The sick man left the hotel and about a year after there came a draft to the table girl of three thousand dollars. The man was dead, but her name was not forgotten in the will. It pays to be civil. And again, a young lad, a bootblack in the streets of New York City, obtained a position in a bank by his pleasant "yes, sir," "no, sir," to everybody. It made him President of the bank. "I do not know," "don't care," "none of my business," always pays "over the left." Many a boy has been lifted out of poverty to affluence in the end by his gentlemanly manners in his boyhood days.

The Louisville Railway Company should seriously consider the advisability of putting on Jim Crow cars on the Walnut street line, as it is only a question of a short time when the public will demand it. Persons compelled to use this line are finding it more and more objectionable every day, loud and boisterous negroes of both sexes taking full possession, and as always was the case, if twenty negroes board a car they take twenty different seats and prefer to sit with white people before their own color. Looks like the Walnut street line will be a bad advertisement for our visitors to the State fair.

The arrest of two Englishmen, Brandon and Trench, at Borkum, on suspicion of espionage in Germany, has caused a revival of talk about a Teutonic invasion of England, and the new evidence of warlike preparations across the North Sea may create a deeper reaching scare than any of the preceding ones.

The raise of phone rates from $4 to $6 a month and the installation of party lines is a palpable violation of the agreement by which the Home Telephone Company secured its franchise. Our officials should enforce the contract made with the Home people or revoke the franchise.

The news from Tuesday's balloting in Wisconsin, Michigan, New Hampshire and Vermont brings but poor comfort to the standpat Republicans. Prospects for Democratic control of the next House of Representatives are constantly brightening.

Forty-six cotton mills in the vicinity of Fall River, Mass., suspended operations this week, throwing out of employment 18,000 people. Other industries have also suspended for the present, making the situation rather serious.

When you receive a sample copy of the Kentucky Irish American it is an invitation to subscribe. Why not help to increase its circulation and influence by getting your neighbor to subscribe?

The unreliability of Rome news via the Associated Press is apparent in the dispatch which says that Leo XIII. at one time intended suppressing the Knights of Columbus as a Catholic society.

THE THREE CROSSES.

Do the boys and girls know the difference between the Latin, Greek and St. Andrew's crosses? Many grown people do not, and it is reasonable to assume that the younger readers may need the information. The Latin cross is one with which we are all familiar. The lower limb is a good deal longer than the other three limbs. The Greek cross, on the contrary, has all the limbs of equal length—two pieces crossed in the middle at right angles. St. Andrew's cross is in the form of the letter X. The Greek cross is sometimes called the cross of St. George, and is blended with that of St. Andrew to form the flag called the Union Jack.

THE TWO MEN INSIDE.

An old Indian once asked a white man to give him some tobacco for his pipe. The man gave him a loose handful from his pocket. The next day he came back and asked for the white man. "For," said he, "I found a quarter of a dollar among the tobacco." "Why don't you keep it?" asked a by-stander. "I've got a good man and a bad man here," said the Indian, pointing to his breast, "and the good man says, 'It is not yours; give it back to the owner.' The bad man says, 'Never mind, you got it, and it is your own now.' The good man says, 'No, no! you must not keep it.' So I don't know what to do, and I think I do to sleep, but the good and bad man keep talking all night, and trouble me; and now I bring the money back I feel good."

Like the old Indian, we have all a good and bad man with us. The bad man is Temptation, the good man is Conscience, and they keep talking for and against many things that we do every day. Which wins?

INLAND CAPITAL OF IRELAND

Like several other counties in Ireland, Kilkenny takes its name from one of its principal towns, and the town of Kilkenny took its name from the church founded there by St. Canice in the sixth century. It was called Cill-Channigh, the Church of St. Canice. St. Canice was Abbot of Aghaboe, in Queen's county, where he had his principal church. He died in the year 588. Kilkenny is forty-five miles long, measuring from the bend of the Suir at Moonveen, west of Waterford City, to the north angle of the county near the village of Clogh. Its breadth, east and west, from the Barrow to the western boundary is twenty-three miles. It has an area of 796 square miles and a population of 95,000.

The entire northern margin of the county is moderately upland and hilly. The hills that occupy the harony of Fassadinin and the north of the barony of Gowran are commonly called the Castlecomer Hills, though the elevations are sometimes up to 1,000 feet over the sea level there are few conspicuous hills among them, as they slope very gradually, and the plain on which they stand is itself 300 or 400 feet above the sea level. South of the city of Kilkenny and west of the Nore extends a great plain diversified with gentle undulations.

The Nore river, coming from Queen's county, runs through Kilkenny in a direction generally toward the south-southeast and joins the Barrow two miles above New Ross. The Barrow coming from Carlow first touches Kilkenny at Dunluga, and from that south to where it enters the Suir, a distance of thirty-six miles, forms the eastern boundary line of the county. The Suir, coming from the west forms the southern boundary. All other rivers in Kilkenny are tributary to the above three. The only lake in the county is the small Lough Culien, near the southern boundary. It is only remarkable for the numerous legends in connection with it.

The city of Kilkenny has a population of 12,000. It is the assize town of the county, and has been called the inland capital of Ireland. It has been from the earliest times a place of importance, both as regards ecclesiastical and civil affairs. It is one of the most interesting and most beautiful built cities of Ireland. It contains a round tower and many other fine ecclesiastical ruins. Kilkenny Castle, the seat of the great family of Butler or Ormand, is beautifully situated on the banks of the Nore. Other but smaller towns in Kilkenny are located on the Nore are Ballyragget, Thomastown and Innistoge. Each of them have historic ecclesiastical ruins. Then on King's river is Callan, with its fine abbey ruins. Near the village of Kells is the round tower of Killea, with an old Celtic cross beside it. At Kells itself are the fine remains of a priory founded in 1183. In the north, on the River Dinin, is Castlecomer.

The great Leinster coal field extends into Kilkenny and occupies the greater part of the harony of Fassadinin and the harony of Gowran. The limestone which occupies the great central plain of the county becomes a fine black marble in the district lying around the city of Kilkenny. It is quarried extensively and is manufactured into tombstones and various kinds of architectural ornamental work.

The greater part of Kilkenny was included in the ancient sub-kingdom of Ossory. On the banks of the Nore is the parish of Rathneagh. Here Eker and Eremom, the first two Kings of Ireland of the Milesian colony, erected a harony of Ossory. The limestone which occupies the greater part of the harony of Rathneagh and the harony of Rathneagh are still extant. The fort gave the name to the parish.

SPLENDID
Meeting and Large Gathering of Hibernians Monday.

A largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of Division 3, A. O. H., was held Monday night, with not one of the officers absent. The first business was the obligation of James J. Carroll and the report of the Visiting Committee that Patrick O'Brien had recovered from his illness.

Stato President Butler, County President Welch and President P. T. Sullivan were present, and in interesting talks outlined the work that was expected of the State convention to be held next week at Ashland. D. J. Coleman reported the successful results of an official visit by State Secretary William J. Connelly and himself to Covington, where they were given a genuine Hibernian welcome.

Following an interesting address by Lawrence J. Mackey on the results of the national convention and the work to be done to strengthen the order in the Southern States, Messrs. Michael Sheehan, Patrick Holley and Michael Dineen, pioneers in the work of the Ancient Order in Kentucky, were called upon and made short talks that were well received. On account of the State convention and the absence of the officers from the city adjournment was taken till the first Monday in October.

COVINGTON
Jubilee Celebration of St. Anne's Church Big Event.

Judged from the last reports the coming jubilee celebration of St. Anne's church in Covington will be the greatest event in the history of that parish and of more than ordinary interest throughout the diocese. The pastor, Rev. William B. Ryan, one of the best known priests in Kentucky, assisted by several committees of energetic young builders, is working hard to complete an elaborate programme, which will cause this jubilee to be commemorated in ideal fashion. The church is undergoing many improvements and will present a beautiful appearance on that occasion, as will the rectory and the Sisters' residence, which are also being improved. Father Ryan was for a number of years Grand Chaplain of the Young Men's Institute in this State, and it is expected that a number of the counsels will be represented at the jubilee.

VANDALS RAID CHURCH.

Burglars got into St. Bonaventura College at Allegheny, three miles west of Olean, N. Y., Friday night and stole seven golden chalices from the altar of the adjoining church. They also tore and destroyed altar draperies and trimmings that were not of negotiable value. The poor box was torn from the wall and its contents taken. The total damage and loss to the church was about $1,700.

CONVALESCENT.

Mrs. Patrick Ansbro, one of the best known and highly respected women of Jeffersonville, who has been critically ill at her home, 512 Illinois avenue, is now convalescent and on the speedy road to recovery, to the great relief of her many friends and relatives.

HOT AND COLD.

The hottest and coldest temperatures are reported from American cities. Miles City, Mont., shows the greatest variation, 111 degrees in summer and 67 degrees below zero in winter—an extreme variation of 178 degrees. Records at Phoenix, Ariz., give 119 degrees, and Yuma, Ariz., 118 degrees. The southernmost point of Florida is the only place in the United States where a freezing temperature has never been recorded. The Tatoosh Island in the San Juan de Fuca waterway between Oregon and Vancouver shows the least variation in temperature, varying between 80 degrees for the highest, and 50 degrees for the lowest.

GREATNESS.

Greatness is not the result of mere chance and genius; it is not the fact of being brilliant, nor the desperate rally of ambition; but on the contrary, the combined results of strong mental endowment and persistent determination to succeed; vigorous cultivation of the best in us, honorable design, and a wise direction of all our forces and unwavering from that which our conscience tells us to be right.

DARK CAKE.

The following recipe is for a dark cake, which makes either one large cake or two small ones. Two cupsful of light brown sugar, one-half cupful of dark molasses, two cupfuls of sour milk, one-half cupful of butter or oleomargarine, four cupfuls of flour, two teaspoonfuls of soda, one teaspoonful of cloves or allspice, one and one-half cupfuls of raisins. By adding more fruit will make a fruit cake.

BAKED BANANAS.

Peel six bananas and place in an enameled baking pan. Mix one-third of a cupful of sugar with two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and two tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Pour this over the bananas and bake twenty minutes in a slow oven, take out, turn out into a dish and set away to cool. Serve with whipped cream.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

The two Milwaukee councils spent Labor day at the Springbank Catholic Chautauqua.

Four hundred persons attended a smoker given by Denver Council last week in the new hall. It was the first for a number of years past.

Milwaukee Knights have filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State. The capital stock is $50,000, and the object the maintenance of the new club house.

A big escort of Indianapolis Knights is being arranged to receive the Papal Ablegate, Monsignor Falconio, when he arrives to participate in the consecration of Bishop-elect Chartrand.

Commencing Sunday, October 2, the Rev. Bernard L. Conway, Paullist father of New York, will give a series of lectures under the auspices of Terre Haute Council, which will conclude on the succeeding Sunday.

The New Orleans Fourth Degree Assembly are making great preparations for the exemplification in that city on Sunday, October 16. Following the exemplification will be a banquet, at which prominent men from many States will be speakers.

Theodore Roosevelt will be the guest of the Knights of Peoria, Ill., on October 12, and will speak at the banquet commemorating the landing of Columbus 418 years ago. With him will be Bourke Cockran, the great New York lawyer and Democratic orator.

VISITING HIS BROTHER.

Rev. Emmot B. Kennedy, of Mobile, Ala., left last week to spend a fortnight in Philadelphia and at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg. Before his return he will visit his brother, Joseph Kennedy, at Annapolis. Father Kennedy will reach Louisville next week and will be with his mother until he leaves for Mobile.

FOR WOMAN'S EYE.

Heels are to be lower. The platted frill holds its vogue wonderfully well. Jet for buttons is not quite as popular as last year.

The colonel's plume is more than ever worn on small hats. Lace and plain linen turnovers will be worn on stocks of silk. Black satin tallornades are good. The smartest new hats are low, broad affairs.

New and fetching are bags and belts of cretonne incrustated with fine white soutache. Turbans are rising in height and also showing the narrow effect of the crown apex.

Scarf silk with deep double border, is the popular gauzy material for evening gowns. Small hats of sealskin, bell shaped, with a small brim and military turbans are to be much in vogue.

Hoods are seen on many of the handsomest evening capes. These are often finished with a tassel more or less elaborate. Gilt buttons, which have been exceedingly popular on the colored tub dresses this summer, will be used on the fall gowns.

For skirt trimming nothing is better than wide folds of the same material or satin of the same color used in folds. These are untrimmed.

DEPUTIES

Named by President Leonard For Knights and Ladies.

In a letter to the Kentucky Irish American Supreme President Leonard, of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, expresses appreciation of his treatment while in Louisville by the Rev. C. P. Raffo, Thomas Keenan, Hon. E. J. McDermott, Dr. William B. Doherty, Attorney P. T. Sullivan and quite a number of others. Under the new administration the affairs of the order are being brought into excellent shape and an active campaign is now in progress, while bright and lasting results are looked for from Louisville, the cradle of the order.

The following are the Deputies appointed and commissioned for the Louisville branches:

C. J. Thoben, Mrs. Cora Richards, Mrs. Ella Brooks, John B. Stiekler, Mrs. Theresa Kast, J. N. Kessick, Miss Katie Henley, Mrs. Mary Welsch, Edward Barrett, A. Hickenbeck, J. J. Score, Michael Lyons, Mrs. Isabella Scanlan, Andrew Kast, Miss Mary Corcoran, Martin Stocker, Miss Rena Welschberg, Dr. P. S. Ganz, J. B. Murphy, Miss Katie Reardon, Stephen McElliot, Emery Schlafer.

NEAR THE END.

Louisville Base Ball Club Goes On Last Trip This Week.

The Louisville club will begin a four-game series with the Toledo aggregation this afternoon and the Colonels will have a hard struggle before them, as the desperate race for second place between Columbus and Toledo has those two teams hustling. The majority of fans here hope Toledo will land, as they certainly helped Louisville to win the pennant last year by defeating Minneapolis and Milwaukee when the race was very close. The Toledo line has several Louisville favorites, among them being Hallman, Hickman, Hinchman, Elwert and McCarthy. After this series the Colonels go away for an eight-days' trip to Indianapolis and Columbus, then returning home for the closing games of the season, which seems a fitting close for a disastrous year, both being tail-enders. Hope is expressed for better things next year, but it looks like a great many new men are needed, Stanley, Doyle, Robinson, Hughes, Kelly, Halla and Slagle being about the best material of the season according to the opinion of a majority of fans who are good critics.

BISHOP BURKE.

There was much rejoicing in the ranks of the Ladies' Catholic Benefit Association when announcement was made that the Right Rev. T. M. A. Burke, Bishop of Albany, N. Y., had consented to act in the capacity of Supreme Spiritual Adviser for that great women's organization. This was made known last week at a reception tendered the Supreme President, Miss Kate Mahoney, at Troy.

RECALLS AWFUL TRAGEDY.

James Fitzharris, better known by the name "Skin the Goat," who drove the cab containing the assassins of Lord Frederick Cavendish, Chief Secretary for Ireland, and T. H. Burke, the permanent Under Secretary, to the scene of the crime in Phoenix Park May 6, 1882, died Wednesday in the Dublin workhouse. Fitzharris was released in 1903 after serving twenty years of a life sentence for his share in the tragedy.

CHARACTER FORMING.

Have you ever noticed how an icicle is formed? If you have, you noticed how it froze one drop at a time until it was a foot or more long. If the water was clear, the icicle remained clear, and sparkled almost as brightly as diamonds in the sun; but if the water was slightly muddy, the icicle looked foul, and its beauty was spoiled. Just so our characters are forming—one little thought or action at a time. If each thought be pure and right the soul will be lovely and sparkle with happiness; but if impure and wrong, there will be deformity and wretchedness.

HAPPINESS.

In every relation of life our happiness is at the mercy of somebody. Husbands and wives, brothers and sisters, parents and children, co-workers in office or shop, all hold one another's peace and happiness to some extent in the hollow of their hands. In the midst of our triumphs, our joy or success, a small taunt, a sarcastic, wounding speech, transforms our cup of honey into gall.

FAIRY TALES.

While the most exact and rigid truthfulness should be practiced in our dealings with children, and they should be taught to shun all equivocation and lying, still we need not fear to satisfy the vivid baby imaginations with the literature of fairyland. They early learn to find the truth wrapped up in the busk of the story.

ORANGE MARMALADE.

Two oranges and two lemons cut into small pieces. Take three cupfuls of cold water to each cupful of fruit and let stand twenty-four hours and then boil forty-five minutes. Let stand twenty-four hours again and add one cupful of sugar to each cupful of fruit and water and boil slowly until thick or jellylike. This makes twelve glasses of marmalade.

ESCALLOPED CUCUMBERS.

Pare and slice thin two large cucumbers. Put in baking dish alternate layers of cucumbers and cracker crumbs; add salt, pepper and dots of butter to each layer. Moisten well with water. Bake three-quarters of an hour in moderate oven. This will serve six people.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

Colorado's next State convention will be held in Denver. Milwaukee will have the Wisconsin State convention two years hence.

With 242 divisions and nineteen military companies, Massachusetts has a total membership of 24,620.

Three hundred guests attended the banquet and closing festivities of the State convention at Janesville, Wis.

A feature of the Maine State convention at Bangor this month will be a class initiation of 100 candidates.

There will be no meeting of Divisions 1, 2 or 3 or the Ladies' Auxiliary until after the Ashland convention.

Division 1 will soon begin preparations for a winter entertainment that will surpass any it has yet undertaken.

The annual "Irish day" of the Indianapolis divisions was a success. German flags were conspicuous at the park.

About sixty-five delegates of the order and forty from the Ladies' Auxiliary will constitute the Maine convention on September 20.

The graves of deceased members were decorated at St. John, N. B., September 4. This tribute to departed brothers is observed annually in that city.

State President John J. Mahoney, of Chicago, declares the Illinois State convention at East St. Louis the most harmonious and successful ever held.

Division 4 meets Monday night, when all the arrangements for the trip to Ashland will be announced. President Hennessy wants all the members present.

At a recent Hibernian demonstration at Omaha, Ireland, the procession extended over two miles in length. Louth, Armagh, Down and Antrim sent large delegations.

Directed by State President P. B. Walsh, one of Terre Haute's most representative citizens, Indiana will show a substantial increase in members during the ensuing two years.

Tomorrow the Ladies' Auxiliaries of Indianapolis will have a county initiation, and on the following Sunday the divisions of Tipton and Kokomo will initiate at the latter place.

Much praise is being bestowed on J. J. Coleman by members everywhere for his energy and work, which has been of material benefit to each of the four divisions and the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Following the State convention comes the county convention and the election of officers for the next two years. With the material to select from a County Board of great strength and ability will be chosen.

John Keane, Secretary of Division 2, wore a broad smile last week, and with good reason, for on Sunday a little John, Jr., was christened. At the meeting of Division 2 last Friday night he had to have an assistant in order that he might have time to receive the congratulations of his Hibernian friends, who hope the youngster may follow in the footsteps of his worthy father and grandfather, Michael Keane.

MACAULEY'S.

"The Girl in the Kimono," a production that has had a long run in Chicago, which speaks well for its drawing power, will be Macauley's opening offering for next week. It is a farce with music and the stage setting and costumes are said to be beautiful. A large chorus, with some stunning dance effects, are said to make "The Girl in the Kimono" a picturesque offering for the early season.

HOPKINS' THEATER.

The large daily attendance at the Hopkins' Theater attests its popularity with the amusement loving public and gives assurance of a most successful season. Well ventilated, roomy and comfortable, it is an ideal place to spend the leisure hours. The management announces a programme for the third week of its vaudeville season that is rich in attractive features and a run of motion pictures that is equally meritorious.

NEW DANCING CLUB.

The Chanticleer Dancing Club has organized for the coming season and will give a series of dances at Utopian Hall, the opening dance being Tuesday, September 27. The members of the club are John J. Callon, Lawrence D. Meany, J. U. Burke, Joseph C. Roggenkamp, David C. Burke, William B. Meany, Charles F. McDevitt, James J. McTighe, James R. Meany, Dave Burke, Francis Fitzgibbons, Abe Menzlin and Ben H. Deming.

SISTERS VISIT SISTERS.

Sister M. Loretta, of the Mount Carmel order, who was the guest of her sisters, Mrs. M. Fineran, of Avondale, and Mrs. R. Austly, Madison avenue, Covington, for two weeks, for the first time in a number of years, has returned to her convent home in New Orleans. She was accompanied by Sister Mary St. Luke, who also visited her sister, Mrs. Catherine Reagan, of South Norwood.

COUNTRY SUPPER.

The people of Pewee Valley and vicinity will give a euchre on Thursday, September 22, for the benefit of St. Aloysius' church, when a good country supper will be served for visitors from the city. Father Edward Boes is the pastor, and the proceeds will go to help him in the work he is doing for God and his people.

The remains were brought to the home of her son, Justin Lawson, the funeral taking place Wednesday morning from St. Mary's church. Mrs. Lawson was an aunt of Mrs. Charles F. Pfeffer, and is survived by two brothers and two sisters, Nick Stein, Peter Stein, Mrs. Charles Kretzer and Ernest Lawson.

DON'T FORGET THIS.

Branch 25, C. K. of A., requests its members and friends not to forget the high class motion picture and vaudeville show to be given under its auspices at the Broadway Theater, near Shelby street, next Monday and Tuesday nights. A number of pleasing specialties have been secured and Robert Thurman will sing at each performance. For Tuesday night there will be an entire change of programme.

FOR HIS BOY.

Charles F. Pfeffer, prominent in Y. M. I. circles in the Falls Cities and a Director in the Supreme Council at San Francisco, in session this week, denied himself the honor and pleasure of the trip in order to be at home to welcome a fine boy, the story brought him last Saturday. His friends are congratulating him and say they will send him to the next Supreme meeting.

READY FOR EASTER.

According to advice from the contractors the last stone will be laid in the steeple of the new Denver Cathedral by October 15. Work on the interior can then be carried on with increased speed. It is proposed to have the edifice ready for the first service on Easter Sunday, to which dignitaries from various parts of the country will be invited. There will be fifty-two stained-glass windows, the contract for eighteen of which was awarded to a Munich firm. The total cost of the windows will be $50,000.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to extend our sincere thanks to our relatives and friends for their heartfelt sympathy, extended in the loss of our beloved daughter, Mary Catherine Stewart. Especially do we thank the Rev. Father Norman, the pall-bearers and choir of St. Cecilia's, the donors of floral offerings and those who assisted in any way in our bereavement. Mother and Children.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

The extensive saw mills owned by James Ahearn at Ballina were completely destroyed by fire. The damage is estimated at $15,000.

Much regret is felt in Newtownards at the death of Joseph Watson, for nineteen years associated with the Ann street hemstitching factory.

Very Rev. Canon Eugene McKenna, of Aughamullen East, has been appointed to Carrickmacross in succession of the late Dean McGlone.

The late Rev. Thomas McVerry, of Carrington, left personal estate valued at about $11,000, much of which was willed for the poor of the parish.

Right Rev. Monsignor Segrave, of Drogheda, and Rev. Thomas Cassidy, of Monasterboice, accompanied Cardinal Logue as chaplains to the Eucharistic Congress.

John McGarron, of Aghacarrow, County Leitrim, was killed by falling over the cliffs at Bundoran, and a coroner's jury found that the fatality was accidental.

The outlook for the harvest is not at all what it promised early in the season. In the western section thousands of acres are under water and much of the crop irretrievably ruined.

Joseph Weil, aged thirty-one years, of Quigley Point, County Donegal, was out shooting when his gun accidentally exploded, and the shot, entering the body near the heart, killed him instantly.

Before leaving for Canada Cardinal Logue appointed Rev. C. McDonald as successor to Father M. J. Quinn as the administrator at Dundalk. Father Quinn has taken over the pastoral charge of Carrington.

With the assistance of twenty-five police at Peashee Mrs. Alice Cassidy and children were evicted from their little holding. Through the intervention of Very Rev. Canon Keenan they were subsequently reinstated.

The death has occurred at Ballinteskia, near New Ross, of John Power, who was nearly twenty years a member of the New Ross Guardians, and who played a prominent part in the old Land League movement.

Before a bench of five Magistrates at Longford, Joseph Callaghan, Newtownforbes, was charged with intimidating a man named Matthews, by preventing him selling cattle. The bench, after a long hearing, dismissed the case.

The death is announced of Rev. Father W. Burke, of Kilmacomas, at the age of seventy-five years. Although of late Father Burke had been in failing health, he continued, with the zeal and care characteristic of him, to discharge his onerous duties. His death is widely lamented.

The Curates' new residence at Castleblaney is now fully completed, suitably furnished and in occupation, and the work of erecting a new convent for the Sisters of Mercy on Laurel Hill is being rapidly pushed forward. When completed the new convent will be one of the finest in the province.

The consecration of the Most Rev. Patrick Finnegan as Bishop of Kilmore, will take place in the Cathedral of Cavan on Sunday, September 11. The ceremony of consecration will be performed by the Most Rev. Dr. O'Donnell, Bishop of Raphoe, and the sermon on the occasion will be preached by the Very Rev. Peter Flitay, S. J., who is returning from Germany specially for the occasion. The new Bishop is a native of Cavan parish and was baptized, received his first communion and was ordained priest in the church in which he is to be consecrated Bishop.

AVENUE THEATER.

"The Port of Missing Men" will be the Avenue Theater's offering for next week, and is said to be a production of much merit presented by a large and capable company. It has never been seen here and will doubtless draw well. Patrons of the Avenue are well satisfied with the changes and improvements and are giving Manager Shaw much praise.

MOTION PICTURES.

The Casino and Orpheum will present entirely new changes of programme of moving pictures next week, which are claimed to be the equal of any ever produced. Both these houses are enjoying an ever increasing patronage and are thronged daily by pleased ladies and children. As heretofore only the latest and approved films are exhibited.

SHELBYVILLE.

The Rev. John H. Riley returned to his charge at Shelbyville last Sunday, after a most enjoyable vacation of several weeks with his parents and relatives in the East. Since coming to the Church of the Annunciation Father Riley has made numerous improvements, and numbers among his warmest friends many non-Catholics of the city and county.

OVERBERG IS CHAIRMAN.

Joseph C. Overberg, the well known grocer, was elected Chairman of the Forty-ninth Legislative Committee at a meeting Tuesday of the Democratic Precinct Committees held at the Democratic headquarters. Chairman Overberg succeeds William P. McDonogh, who recently resigned to become the Fifth district member of the Democratic State Executive Committee.

PARKS CLOSE.

With today Riverview and Fontaine Ferry Parks will close their gates for the season of 1910. Both have been popular with the public, the amusements having been clean and high class, which augurs well for their future.
